Nurses are backbone of oldest public health district in state

By Terry Wright

This year, public health departments across Michigan are celebrating the 100-year centennial of public health nursing. In 1893, Michigan nurses began a program of school and in-home visits to care for children, babies, new mothers and mothers-to-be. That was the beginning of a great tradition in public health care and served as the foundation for today's public health system. Public health programs have been the catalyst for initiating and expanding new health care services, and are directly responsible for making America the healthiest place in the world. Nurses dedicated to our well-being have been and continue to be the backbone of the program.

Crawford County has been fortunate. District Health Department #1 was formed in October, 1928, by Crawford, Roscommon, Kalkaska, and Missaukee counties. It was the first public health district in the state. In 1950, Wexford County joined the district. Today, the counties of Crawford, Missaukee, Wexford, and Kalkaska make up the district and serve a population of about 65,000 people, through offices in Cadillac, Lake City, Kalkaska, and Grayling.

District Health Department #1 administers over forty specific programs within four major concerns: Prenatal infant services, child/adolescent health services, adult services, and environmental protection services. Each program is designed to meet the needs of the individual, families, and the community. Funding is program specific, with general funds coming from the county and state. Grant programs are utilized whenever possible. Some programs require a minimal patient fee but most are available free of charge.

One of the most successful programs offered through the health department is the WIC program. WIC stands for women, infants, and children. WIC helps correct or prevent malnutrition in low-income pregnant and breastfeeding women, women who recently had a baby, infants, and children up to five years old who are at health risk due to inadequate nutrition. The WIC program provides nutritious foods, including infant formulas, nutrition education, and health screenings and referrals for other medical or family problems. WIC gives children a healthy start in life which has proven to be a vital step in the development of a happy, healthy adult.

CCC reunion this weekend at North Higgins museum

By Terry Wright

June 1 through June 8 has been declared Civilian Conservation Corps Week, by Governor John Engler. The declaration comes in conjunction with the annual CCC reunion at Higgins Lake. The reunion this year will take place on June 4-5-6.

The Civilian Conservation Corps was started by President Franklin D. Roosevelt during the great depression. Unemployed young men were taken into civilian camps to do public works projects. The men planted millions of trees, constructed forest fire look-out towers, built roads and bridges. The CCC is responsible for most of the work that created many of our state parks.

More than three million young men learned skills within the CCC that enabled them to find work to support their families. CCC veterans meet annually at the North Higgins Lake State Park where they have established the state's only CCC museum.

Pledge Relay starts Friday

The Weyerhaeuser AuSable River Canoe Marathon committee will kick off its 1993 season with the Second Annual Celebrity Canoe Race for sponsors and media, Friday, June 4, at 7 p.m. The race will feature eight, four-person relay teams including Weyerhaeuser, City Environmental, Glen's Market, WUPS, WQON and WGRY. Other possible entries are TV 9/10 and Grayling State Bank.

The race will begin at the foot bridge in Grayling City Park and proceed upstream to the railroad bridge, and back to the foot bridge. Each team will complete the looped course two times.

A trophy will be presented to the first and second place team. Also up for grabs are bragging rights until round two of the relay race during marathon week in July.

The Celebrity Race is being conducted in connection with the Third Annual Weyerhaeuser AuSable River Canoe Marathon Pledge Relay. The pledge relay is a fund raiser for the marathon in which volunteers from Grayling and Oscoda paddle the entire length of the AuSable River on a relay basis. The pledge relay will begin immediately following the Celebrity Race and continue approximately 25 hours to the finish line in Oscoda.

The four paddlers participating in the first leg of the pledge relay will be joined by 12 VIP canoes, representing service clubs and organizations from the Grayling area. Each of the twelve organizations will donate $100 to the marathon and will paddle the first stretch from Ray's Canoe Livery to Burton's Landing. The VIP canoes include Grayling Rotary (John Jones and Bill Rutter), Grayling Knights of Columbus (Phil Savoie and Dennis Long), GPA (Debbie Zelek and Carolyn DiPonio), Grayling Army Airfield, WUPS, and Grayling Uptown District.

The marathon committee is still waiting to hear from several other clubs. If your organization would like to join in on the fun call John Cherven at 348-2554.

County Housing Commission helping residents fix homes

By Terry Wright

Mrs. Ruth Isenhauer is bedridden and unable to work. Until last year she lived in a small cabin that was falling down around her. The roof leaked, and there was little insulation. The septic system was inadequate. The house was barely livable, but Mrs. Isenhauer was unable to do a thing about it. She turned for help to the Crawford County Housing Commission.

Today, Mrs. Isenhauer lives on the same lot, in a new, comfortable, fourteen-by-seventy foot mobile home. Because of her income, she was able to qualify for an interest-free, no-down-payment, low-monthly payment loan from the Housing Commission. That loan enabled her to tear down her cabin, dig a complete septic system, pour a cement slab, purchase and move the mobile home, and do all necessary installations and hook-ups. The work was done by all certified and licensed builders under the supervision of, housing commission specialist, Gary Johnson. On the day before last Thanksgiving, Mrs. Isenhauer was able to move into a completely finished, new home. Her monthly payments to the county are within her means, and for the first time in many years she is comfortable and has peace of mind.

A few miles down the road, Mrs. Alice Halberstadt and her daughter, Cynthia Sheldon, were able to benefit from the housing commission too. Jointly, they applied to the commission for money for minor remodeling and major weather proofing on their home. They received a $3,600 loan that enabled them to completely insulate their attic, install vinyl siding, wire their garage for electricity, and install a new bathroom sink. Their loan is paid back in low monthly installments over a ten-year period at 1% interest. Without the Crawford County Housing Commission, they would not have been able to have the work done.

The Crawford County Housing Commission offers several unique programs for low income housing assistance. Mrs. Halberstadt's loan was through a community development block grant from the federal government, to Crawford County, for $200,000. In 1992, that program helped ten county residents purchase homes, and provided 20 more with necessary funds to rehabilitate their homes. The maximum loan is $20,000. As Mrs. Halberstadt returns her money through monthly payments, it is loaned to help others. These revolving loan funds are what was used to purchase Mrs. Isenhauer's new home. In this way the original $200,000 grant is able to work for recipients over and over again.

To date, the community development block grant program has developed over $3 million in program assets, with $1.5 million in accounts receivables. In 1993, Crawford County received an additional $200,000 through the block grant program.

The housing commission has other programs of assistance. The homeownership assistance program is intended to provide home purchase assistance to first-time homebuyers for use as their primary residence. It does not provide for new construction, only existing homes already on the market. This program goes directly through local banks. It will pay up to one-half of the down payment on an existing home, and it will help with the closing costs.

The Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA), provides funds for two programs. The first is a low interest loan, up to $15,000, to rehabilitate homes that are 20 years old or older. The second is a ten year forgivable loan program for very low income families to make improvements to their homes. The

I-75 accident claims 78-year-old man

A two-car accident on northbound I-75, just north of the Grayling city limits, claimed the life of a 78-year-old downtown man last Saturday. Killed was Arnold A. Schultz of Merrill.

At approximately 11:55 a.m. sheriff deputies were called to the scene after the victim had attempted to use an emergency vehicle turnaround road.

His vehicle was struck broadside by another northbound vehicle. The jaws of life had to be called to the scene in order to extricate Schultz. His wife, who was a passenger, was taken to Mercy Hospital where she was treated and released. The driver and passengers of the other vehicle did not receive any injuries.

Assisting at the scene were the Michigan State Police, the Grayling Fire Department, the Grayling City Police, and North Flight Ambulance. Officers reported that all persons involved were wearing seat belts and that alcohol was not involved.

TRAGIC ACCIDENT ON I-75--Volunteer rescue workers remove Arnold Schultz of Merrill, from his vehicle. Schultz died from his injuries despite efforts to save him. Schultz's wife survived the accident with minor injuries.

VEHICLES INVOLVED IN FATAL ACCIDENT--The driver of the light colored vehicle died when he was struck broadside by the station wagon while trying to turn onto an emergency access road. Occupants of the station wagon did not receive any serious injury.

County receives $300,000 grant for jail expansion

By Terry Wright

Governor Engler announced last Friday that Crawford County has been awarded a grant in the amount of $300,000 to be used toward the construction or expansion of a new jail. The announcement was made at a meeting of the Northeast Michigan Council of Governments (NEMCOG), in Gaylord. The Governor was in Gaylord to help celebrate the 25th anniversary of NEMCOG.

Crawford County was one of several northeast Michigan counties receiving money for jail projects.

This grant comes at just the right time for Crawford County. The Board of Commissioners has been investigating the feasibility of expanding the current jail facilities, and if the project gets the green light, had hoped to complete the project without going to the taxpayers for any increase in tax moneys.

The official written notification of the grant has not yet reached officials in the courthouse or sheriff department, so it is not yet known where the grant originated but it was thought to have come from the Michigan Department of Commerce, economic development fund.

Death of student hurt everyone

Recently the students of G.H.S. endured the painful experience of a death. Angie Labo was a classmate of mine. I would refer to her as more of an acquaintance than a friend because I really didn't know her that well. She was just a girl I saw in the hall every day.

One might think that the death of a fellow student would bring a class closer together, but the opposite happened to us. On the day of Angie's funeral a class-wide fight broke out. There were no punches thrown, but a lot of damage was done with words. A group of Angie's close friends felt that the group of students they referred to as "preps" were going to the funeral simply to get out of school. Her friends shot statements like, "you preps better not go because her parents don't want you there" and, "if you really cared you could have gone to the showing instead." I did know enough about Angie to safely say that she would never have said things like that.

I chose not to attend Angie's funeral, but I came to that decision after many hours of thought. I think, like many students, I was torn. I wanted to go to the funeral because Angie and I were in the same class, and the accident could have happened to any of us. There were many teenagers out that night. On the other hand, I did not want to try to pass myself off as a "great friend," because I wasn't and it's too late to do anything about that. Many of my friends did attend the funeral to pay their respect, but I think I echo the thoughts of the rest of the "preps," when I say that her death raised some emotions that have been tucked away since Matt's death last August, and we were there to support those that were very close to her. I think it's kind of sad that our support was not accepted. We know that even though we (the preps) are hurting, her close friends are hurt much more, and I don't believe that one student at that funeral was there just to get out of school.

Did you ever want to write to your representative, congressman, or whoever and make a complaint or ask for help? I often wanted to, but I figured "Oh, they are too busy to bother with you." But I wrote to Allen Lowe and within the week I had results.

Thank you, Mr. Lowe, you took care of the problem. I really appreciate it. I want everyone who voted for Mr. Lowe and also the ones who didn't to know that Allen Lowe is doing a good job. Thanks again!

National debt grows and grows

ALL THE BELLS and whistles in Washington these days — at least on the Clinton-Democrat side of the political aisle — herald a new fiscally responsible government focused on spending cuts and tax increases.

President Clinton has made much of his hard-headed approach in reducing the deficit.

Even so, if everything goes as Mr. Clinton proposes for the next four years — and if the economy grows the way he forecasts — the government will be going deeper and deeper into debt.

Mr. Clinton's deficit reduction does not mean a balanced budget. He is proposing that we spend more than we take in; that's deficit financing.

Where the deficit cut develops is that Mr. Clinton's budget will not be overspending as much as it could be.

MEANWHILE, THE national debt keeps growing and growing.

Presidential rhetoric blames Republicans for just about every bad thing, such as public debt.

"This is the crowd that had the government for 12 years," Mr. Clinton told a union audience recently of the Reagan and Bush Republican administrations.

"They took the deficit from $1 trillion to $4 trillion."

True enough, but if the Clinton budgets play out as forecast, in just four years of a Clinton administration, the national debt will grow by almost another trillion dollars.

That's an even faster rate of growth of public indebtedness under Mr. Clinton than he criticizes under Mr. Reagan and Mr. Bush.

Mr. Clinton hit one nail on the head in that same union audience speech cited above. Right after whaling away at the Republican debt increases, he added:

"Sometimes I think the secret of success in this town is being able to say the most amazing things with a straight face.

Which, of course, he just did.

THE CLINTON DEFICITS would be $264 billion the first year, $247 billion the second, then $212 billion and wind up with $214 billion. That adds up to $937 billion additional national debt for our country.

That's if Mr. Clinton's budgets are adopted as proposed, and if the economy grows as predicted yielding higher tax collections.

In analyzing Mr. Clinton's budget proposals, Washington Post columnist David Broder has figured that 57 cents of each dollar of personal income tax goes to pay interest on the national debt (income tax collections estimated at $515 billion, interest payments budgeted at $295 billion).

The first 57 cents of each dollar an individual sends to the Internal Revenue Service in income tax is applied to interest, before a single penny is spent for any government payroll or activity.

As our national debt burgeons from $4 trillion to $5 trillion under Mr. Clinton's leadership, even more taxes must go for interest.

Laden with fiscal reality such as this, it's hard to become enthusiastic about the sort of "deficit reduction" that President Clinton is pushing.

Volunteer at animal shelter knows someone will carry on

After fifteen months of working at the animal shelter, I must say farewell. Many treasured friendships were formed during this time.

Helen and Carole made Mondays and Wednesdays easier. (God bless you both — I love you). The young people, especially Cassie, Amanda, Brandy and Natalie were a joy to have known. These girls never refused a chore and their laughter will ring in my ears and heart.

There are those others who helped, even my dear friend confined to her wheelchair. She and her husband were there during bitter wintertimes when this old gal's arthritis made it especially great to have a man to carry the water outside. I can't forget those times. "Doug," a gentleman doing community service, took heavy pails of water from me and did the job. There were so many other nice people who made a mistake in life, but showed so much concern for an old lady and the animals.

Part of my memories will be the businesses who gave and gave to the shelter. Without the help of the Avalanche and its fine publicity and great articles, a lot of pets would never have found their new homes and owners. Betsy and Chuck and the pictures were great. Please keep it up.

Then there are those who drop in with pet food, money donations and even those who know how great it is to have a visitor on the long days.

I guess I'll miss you all, and even Dixie, who can't express herself only in letters to the editor. Everything I've said could be repeated by her, and unlike me, she will carry on the task. I was only a volunteer like all the rest and that's what makes the shelter special. Dixie is the manager. I realize I didn't name the board, but then Mary, Ward, Heidi, Jim and Paul have tended to be the "silent hero" type of people who wish all of us luck.

Someone out there will take my place. I hope you step right up and help these people. My beloved pets need someone who will kiss them good-bye as they go to new homes and those who don't find homes need someone to comfort them when they die. It's a hard job. Lots of "burn out." All in all though, I will miss it and all my friends in Crawford County. Good-bye. God bless.

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

The old man's new book is out and selling well and I am real proud of it. The cover and dedication, which were done by Kellie Kitchen, is real nice. Kellie is a lady whose talented hands can turn a plain sheet of paper into a thing of beauty. Calligraphy, as defined in the dictionary, is beautiful or elegant handwriting and that is Kellie's line of work. Thank you Kellie, for contributing beauty to my efforts. As soon as the publishing cost is paid, all proceeds from my book will be donated to the Christian Help Center. Copies are available at the Avalanche office and Goodale's Bakery as well as the Help Center. Some may think the ten dollar price is too high, but you are not just buying the book, but helping those among us to whom the food and the center provides is the difference of hunger and health.

A person may be able to survive on a nutritionally unbalanced diet, but it will have an adverse effect on his or her future health. I know many of my playmates of the depression years, who may have lived and thrived on a diet of fat pork and potatoes, paid the price in poor health and early graves. We raised a big garden and Mom did a lot of canning to provide a more balanced diet. Although I was not a big fan of vegetables at that time, her threat of "no vegetables, no dessert" forced me to eat them. Now I love all those vegetables that I used to hate. When I was a kid I always regarded Popeye as a diabolical plot to try to get kids to eat spinach. Now I look forward to a dish of it.

Have you noticed the nice scent in the air as you walk around on the streets of Grayling? With all the lilacs about to burst forth in bloom the scent of them seems to fill the air.

Though our spring has been kind of slow in arriving the flowers seem to be doing pretty good and it seems nice to see their splashes of color instead of the dull white of winter. Today it is a real pleasure to walk around town with the sent of lilacs in your nose and to feast your eyes on the bright color of flowers and shrubs.

So far there has not been many evenings when I can enjoy sitting on the porch watching the old town ruffle its feathers and settle in for the night. It is nice to hear the joyful shouts of children at play now that there is lots of time to play after dinner. School will be out soon and I envy children the joy of the last day of school.

Healthline

Linda DeMarchis, M.A., Health Educator

This column is presented as a public service to the community by District Health Department No. 1 which serves, Wexford, Missaukee, Kalkaska, and Crawford counties. If you have a question you would like answered, please send it to District Health Department No. 1, 401 Lake St., Cadillac, Michigan, 49601.

Question: My husband and I used to rely on Birth Control Pills but I'd forget to take them everyday. I've heard that a new type of contraceptive is available that is placed in your arm and lasts for years. Can the Health Dept. help me obtain this method of birth control?

Answer: The birth control method you are describing is called Norplant. Norplant is a synthetic hormone sealed inside six cylindrical capsules. These capsules are implanted on the inside of a woman's upper arm. This minor surgical procedure is performed under a local anesthetic in a physician's office. After they are inserted the cylinders are not noticeable and the patient can forget about the whole business of birth control.

Once inserted, the capsules begin to release the hormone almost immediately. In some cases the hormone suppresses ovulation and in other cases affects the woman's cervical mucus so that a pregnancy does not occur. The implants provide contraception for five years. At the end of this time the implants may be re-inserted for another five years or the woman may return to her normally fertile state.

Norplant is considered to be a safe and highly effective method of birth control that is 98% or more reliable. Most women who use it, however, experience some variation in their menstrual cycle such as increased or decreased bleeding, prolonged episodes, spotting, etc. as well as other minor side effects. Very rarely, ovarian cysts may develop that require surgery. Your physician or Health Dept. family planning coordinator can explain all of the possible side effects and also help you decide if this is a suitable birth control method for you.

A limited amount of Norplant is available through the Health Dept. for women who have no medical insurance (including Medicaid) and who also meet certain income requirements. To determine if you qualify for this program, call the health dept. family planning clinic in your area.

Palmer wins state scholar/athlete award

Sara Palmer

Senior Sara Palmer was selected to represent Grayling High School on the state high school scholar/athlete list in the Detroit Free Press this spring.

Palmer, the daughter of Joan Powers of Traverse City and Michael and Shelia Palmer of Grayling, maintained a 3.98 grade point average throughout high school, qualifying her to be co-salutatorian of the Class of 1993.

She has been active in the GHS athletic program for four years, including four seasons on the varsity volleyball team, two seasons playing junior varsity softball and two playing varsity softball, freshman basketball and football cheerleading in her sophomore year.

She has also been a member of the local chapter of the National Honor Society since her junior year.

"Sara has definitely blended academics and athletics the way they should be," said Bently Laser, GHS assistant principal/athletic director. "To be salutatorian and earn all those varsity letters she has is a remarkable feat."

In the fall, Palmer will attend Michigan Technological University in Houghton, where she will prepare for a career in mechanical engineering.

She has been in a college preparatory curriculum at GHS that included four years of mathematics, science, English and social studies, two years of Spanish and one year of steno lab.

This year, she studied Advanced Placement Calculus via interactive television from Roscommon High School.

"It went fast — like a college class," said Palmer. "So it will help me in college to get the pace."

Palmer is probably best known among local sports fans for her outstanding volleyball career. She was named to the all-conference volleyball teams her sophomore, junior and senior years; selected for the all-tournament team at the Grayling Subway Volleyball Invitational this year; received all-tournament honorably mention at the Petoskey Invitational her junior and senior years; named the team's most valuable player her junior and senior years; received the 110% award her senior year; and named co-captain her junior and senior years.

In softball, last year she was named all-conference, team most valuable player and tri-captain, and she won the coach's award. Because this year's season is still in progress, award winners have not yet been named, but Palmer is again a team leader.

Her sports career began when she was a child and played several types of ball with her older brothers. She was on a T-ball team in elementary school and a basketball team in middle school.

"If it wasn't for athletics, I don't know what I'd do," she admitted. "Athletics makes you more people-oriented. You get to work with a team — some of (the members) ones you don't normally work with."

Nevertheless, high school graduation will mean the end of her interscholastic athletic career, said Palmer.

"Maybe I'll play some intramural sports at college," she said. "And I want to keep in shape in the gym, with weights and aerobics classes."

AuSable River benefits from fishing license funds

The 36th Senate District will receive nearly 25 percent of the $200,000 in Inland Fisheries Cooperative Grant dollars recently approved by the Michigan Natural Resources Commission, Senator John D. Pridnia (R-Hubbard Lake) announced today.

"Inland waters in the 36th district will receive $43,300 under the grants to work on erosion control and construct a barrier-free fishing platform," Pridnia said.

The grants are made with the money received from the sale of fishing licenses. The purpose of the program is to improve fish habitat and access to the inland waters of Michigan.

Listed among the five grants the 36th Senate District will receive:

- AuSable River in Crawford and Roscommon counties will get $10,000 for erosion control. Sponsored by the Crawford-Roscommon Soil Conservation District, the project includes bank stabilization and construction of fish habitat structures.
- The AuSable River in Iosco County will get $11,300 for a barrier-free platform for anglers. The Charter Township of Oscoda is sponsoring the project.

State hearing on health care slated here June 4

Senator John D. Pridnia, Senate Health Policy Committee chair, will hold the third in a series of statewide public hearings on health care in Grayling on Friday, June 4.

Pridnia (R-Hubbard Lake) scheduled the hearings in order to gather input from the public on the health care issues facing them.

"Health care is a foremost concern of many citizens," Pridnia said. "Our first two hearings in Paw Paw and Escanaba attracted numerous people representing the general public and the health care community at large who offered informative and helpful testimony. I do hope that northern Michigan residents will attend the Grayling public hearing and offer their thoughts on health care reform for the future."

The Grayling hearing will be held at the Crawford County Courthouse, at 2 p.m. It will be hosted by Dr. Gordon Rady, health officer and medical director of District Health Department #1.

GHS government club views state government

The 1993 Youth In Government Club recently returned from their annual trip to Lansing. Michigan State YMCA Youth in Government is a laboratory experience in leadership skills and the state governmental process. The trip offers a look at the executive branch, consisting of the Governor and his cabinet; the judicial system, with its beginning in local courts, filing petitions for appeal with the supreme court and concluding by the youth lawyers arguing their cases before the youth justices in Lansing; and the developing of ideas into legislation by writing bills, caucusing, meeting with committees, lobbying, electing officers, becoming senators and representatives.

The important goal is the learning of how the system works, how it can be modified, and how it can be used to achieve the goals of human dignity through our democratic process. The knowledge gained can become the bench mark to motivate some to enter politics, some to enter government service, and all to be interested, involved, and more effective citizens.

This year's G.H.S. delegation were: Betsy Dean, Chris Jones, Gregory Mesack, Sean Mirate, Yolanda Rosi, Nathaniel Rosi, Nick Stancil, Max Thompson, Aimee Voight, and Joshua Wyss. Advisors were: Howard Lehtu, Valeria Schweda and Doug Pummell.

only payback on this loan is if you don't continue to live there for a full ten years. If you do, there is no payback.

Another forgivable loan program is the rental rehabilitation grant program that allows landlords to upgrade rental units based on tenant income. If all qualifications and obligations are met, this loan is forgivable after five years.

The Crawford County Economic Development Fund provides loans to private corporations or companies, non-profit corporations, governmental agencies, or others with individual approval of the fund board of directors. All EDC funds must be used to enhance economic development, job retention or creation in Crawford County.

Each loan program through the Crawford County Housing Commission is designed for a specific purpose. Each has its own eligibility requirements, but all are for those who may not be able to afford more conventional type loans.

The housing commission office is located within the county building. The Director/Secretary is Jeanine Eggert and the Housing Specialist is Gary Johnson. The housing commission is a self-supporting arm of county government. They receive no direct funding from the county, only office space and in-kind services. Since 1980 they have administered a total of $3,565,000 in direct housing assistance through 4132 projects.

ROOT CANAL THERAPY

by DR. STEPHEN THOMPSON

Years ago, a badly infected tooth was doomed to be extracted. Today, that's a last resort. Root canal therapy can usually save that tooth. It consists of (1) removal of the infected nerve that lies within the root canal of the tooth and (2) the sealing of the root tips to prohibit any further infection.

Each tooth has a center consisting of nerves, blood vessels and fibers that is called the pulp. When the dentist removes the "nerve" from the tooth, he actually removes the pulp tissue containing the nerve. Removing the pulp does not produce a "dead" tooth. It will be very much alive and functioning. It has a source of blood and nerve supply from the surrounding tissues that hold it in place. The tooth will have no sense of feeling because the nerve has been removed, but the tooth itself will be fine. Eventually, a root canal tooth could even be used as a base for a partial denture or bridge and in most cases should last as long as your other teeth.

TURNING ON ONE--Senior Mitch McMillan turns on an inside fastball and sends a bullet down 3rd in a recent Viking baseball game.

Golfers finish season at regional tournament

The Grayling High School girls' golf team competed in the Class B-C-D regional tournament on May 24 at Grosebeck Golf Course in Lansing against 14 other schools.

It was a rather cool and very windy morning with threatening skies when play started, said Coach Laura Schans.

Senior Val Schans led the Vikings with a 145 for 18 holes. Junior Amy Kelley followed one stroke behind with a 146. Freshman Jamie Evans scored 171; junior Kelly Harrison, 184; and senior Samantha Vollmer, 219.

The top three schools and the top five teams will proceed to the state finals, held on June 4-5. None of the Vikings' scores were low enough to qualify for finals.

TEAM BANQUET

The golf team held its banquet on May 27 at the Grayling Country Club.

Following dinner, Schans presented the following awards: most valuable player, Schans; most improved, Harrison; best effort, freshman Jenny Pahssen; best spirit, Evans; top scores, Schans (51) and Kelley (54).

All the team members received varsity recognition: freshmen Evans and Pahssen, juniors Nettie Deman, Harrison, Kelley and Michelle Sampsel; and seniors Sarah Mleck, Schans and Vollmer.

Only two team members — Schans and Kelley — had played golf before. For most of the others, their first introduction to the game was when practice began on April 13 in the high school gymnasium. They learned to swing on automobile floor mats and put on the smooth, tile floor of the cafeteria before hitting their first golf ball at the Grayling Country Club driving range on April 21.

"I am very proud that our girls were brave enough to learn a new sport and compete in that sport all in the same year," said Schans. "Our girls have come a long way since practicing in the cafeteria on floor mats from my car."

"The one thing that our girls have been up against is the fact that the girls we are playing have been involved in golf in junior pro since they were eight or nine years old."

Schans thanked Mike Hoffman, club pro, for the team's use of the club house, driving range, golf balls and golf course.

She also expressed appreciation to the Holiday Inn of Grayling for its sponsorship of the "Vikings of the Week."

"It means a lot to the kids and as a business person, it is nice to know that what you do is appreciated," she said.

Doubleheader win gives JVs 15-5 year

All season, the Grayling High School junior varsity baseball team's trademark has been consistently good play. It was no exception on May 21 when the squad closed its season with a double victory over Lincoln-Alcona at home.

Good, solid pitching by sophomore Chip Waite led the Vikings to a 7-4 victory in the first game. Waite allowed four hits and four runs and struck out 14.

The JV squad had seven runs on seven hits and four stolen bases. Defensively, they allowed only one error.

"We made the routine plays in the field and got key hits when we needed them," said Coach Bill Klinger.

Grayling jumped to a 5-2 lead in the first inning, then finished off the game at 7-4 in the fourth.

"Good pitching helped us hold on to the lead," said Klinger.

Sophomore Chris Jones led the Vikings with two hits. Sophomore Scott Baker hit a two-run homer and sophomores Steve Bugyi, Scott Longendyke and Waite and freshman Andy Perrin also had one hit apiece.

SECOND WIN

The Vikings defeated the Cardinals, 2-1, after six innings of play in the second game of the evening.

"We had good pitching from (freshman) Jason Thompson," said Klinger.

Thompson, who took the win, allowed one run and one hit and struck

LaForest picked up the loss.

He also led the offense, batting three for four.

"All three of his hits were off the left field fence on the fly, just inches from three home runs," said Coach Fred Wolcott.

McMillan was two for four and scored one run.

Kirimo and Wolcott each went one for four and scored one run.

Sophomore Chip Waite, moved up from the junior varsity squad, had his first varsity start against Cheboygan, taking the 8-4 loss in the second game.

Waite gave up six singles and struck out five.

"We were pleased with his pitching," said Wolcott. "He threw good and I think he learned some things. We're looking forward to him being a good starter for us in the future."

The Vikings had only four singles coming off the bats of Kirimo, McMillan, LaForest and Mead.

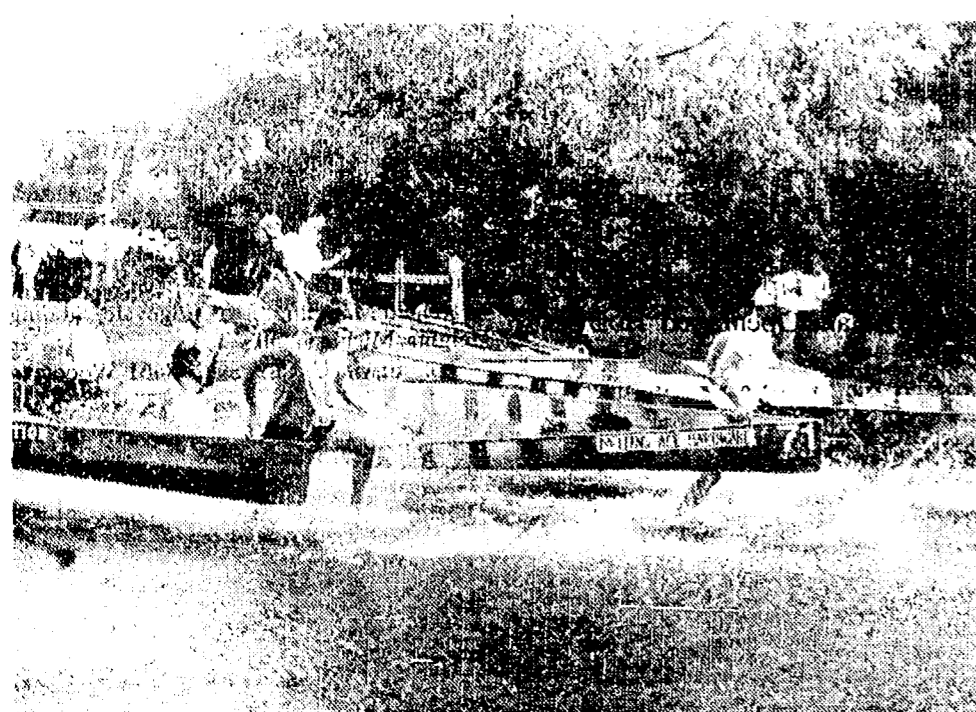

The game was called after five innings due to inclement weather.

"Both Thursday and Friday we played good teams," said Wolcott.

"Onaway played excellent defense. We pitched well against them and kept their hitting down. Cheboygan has a real nice team, with a 23-2 record. We're competitive with them, but it was a matter of them getting a couple of timely hits and making a couple of key plays."

THE HOT CORNER--Senior Sara Palmer digs a hot shot out of the dirt at 3rd and makes the long throw to 1st for an out for the GHS varsity softball team.

PRO START--The start of the Spike's Challenge is a wild run to the bank lines with canoes for the professional teams. They race from Ray's to the Camp Ten Bridge.

Spike's Challenge #3 set for July 4th weekend

The Spike's Challenge committee is gearing up again to prepare for the Third Annual Spike's Challenge Canoe Race during the Fourth of July weekend.

The community helped support the previous races by contributing prizes, money and time. The Crawford County Sheriff Department also assisted with marine assistance. Allen and Dolores Carr donated the equipment for the kid's canoe race, and the Grayling Booster Club and local businesses also helped to make the event a success.

Many activities are being planned for kids, big and small. However, the biggest of events during the Fourth of July weekend will be the canoe race for the kids in the City Park, downtown Grayling. Other activities will include the pro and amateur canoe race, as well as a C-1 race. Anyone interested in volunteering to assist with the preparations for this year's events may call Paula Harwood at (517) 348-7113 (Spike's Keg-O-Nails), Monica Ashton at (517) 348-5651, or Bill Harwood at (517) 348-9070.

CHILDREN RACES--Several race divisions for children are held in the Grayling Millpond during the July 4th weekend. The young paddlers race upstream and back in the millpond.

JV softball team beats Roscommon 9-8

The Grayling High School junior varsity softball team defeated Roscommon, 9-8, in an away game on May 17.

"It was a good, fundamental ball game," said Coach Lori Johnson. "They executed plays well and held on to the lead throughout the entire game."

"It was great that parents came and showed their support," she continued. "I know that boosted the team's spirit. They have come a long way since they stepped on the field for their first game. I'm looking forward to working with this group of girls next year."

Offensively, the Vikings racked up nine hits, six strike-outs, nine walks and nine stranded on base.

"The girls were aggressive at the plate and base running," said Johnson. "It was one of their best outings for hits."

"Defense was pretty solid all around, with only three throwing errors and one mental error," she continued. "(Freshman) Stacey Paulins came out pitching strong and the team made the plays to help her out."

Paulins went three and one-third innings, with freshman Brooke Blauw picking it up in relief in the fourth. Sophomore Trish Straw was catcher.

Highlights included (freshman) Trish Tanner making her first put-out of the season, catching a high fly ball in right field, said Johnson. (Freshman) Jennifer Richardson assisted with four and put out five at the 2nd base position. (Freshmen) Kim Prause and Monica Lawrence reached the base all four times at bat. Richardson had a three-run homer in the third inning.

Grayling jumped to a 1-0 lead in the first inning, but Roscommon came back to tie it up in the second. Grayling added five runs in the third to take the score to 6-1. It was 7-3 after four innings, 7-7 after five; and 9-8 after six.

SECOND GAME

"Game two went okay up until the sixth inning, when I went through all but two of my seven pitchers to try and retire the other team in their last at-bats," said Johnson. "There were several errors made by overthrowing the ball, misjudging and mistakes on basic fundamentals."

Roscommon took a 3-0 lead in the first inning and increased it to 6-1 in the second and 11-3 in the third. The Vikings cut it to 15-6 in the fifth, but were defeated, 34-8, in the sixth.

"They were fired up, because we came back, so we weren't mercied in the fifth, but they were unable to fight off 13 hits, two of which were grand slams," said Johnson. "And even though they were down by many runs in the bottom of the sixth, they gave it their best shot at offense to come back."

Freshman Stacie Mead started in the pitcher position. Freshman Kristina Harris took over in the fourth and fifth innings, and Prause, Richardson and Blauw all took turns at relief in the sixth. Straw was at the catcher spot the entire game.

Grayling Vikings of the Week

Baseball

Eric LaForest

Senior Eric LaForest was five for 11 in four games last week. "He hit the ball well," said Coach Fred Wolcott.

Baseball

Mike Kirimo

Senior Mike Kirimo was five for 13 last week and also pitched a one-hitter against Onaway.

Golf

Jamie Evans

Freshman Jamie Evans did very well at regionals in Lansing with a score of 171, coming in 4th place for the team, said Coach Laura Schans.

Verse or Worse

By Joe Murphy

Cops and Robbers

When I was a kid we played cops and robbers
And the good guys always won
If it came down to a shootout
The robbers robbing days were done

For with those toy handcuffs on their wrists
We soon shipped them off to jail
That the robbers lost and the cops won
We knew to be true without fail

Now the rules of the game have been changed
The robbers win and the cops are fools
In a society where the criminal has all the rights
To make sure the cops follow the rules

Today real bullets fly and good men die
In those cops and robbers fights
For the cop has to be very careful
Not to violate the robbers' rights

And God help the cop who has to kill
To protect his own or his partner's life
For he is judged by folks that have never had
To make tough decisions under strife

Does that robber have a gun in his hand?
The cop has to decide in poor light
He is damned if he is wrong
Or winds up dead if he is right

For he hesitates trying to be sure
And the robber blows him away
I guess I would rather be the robber than the cop
The way the game is played today

New Age Bibles #1

A university student challenged his Kent State professor with a question which led to a six year research project and a 690 page book exposing New Age Bibles. The question was, "Is the fall, recorded in Isaiah 14 about Lucifer (as the KJV and Hebrew text indicates) or Jesus, the morning star, as the NIV and NASB imply?" G.A. Riplinger's answer is entitled, "New Age Bible Versions. (An Exhaustive Documentation Exposing The Message, Men and Manuscripts Moving Mankind To The Antichrist's One World Religion). This book just released is, The New Case Against The NIV, NASB, NKJV, NRSV, NAB, REB, RSV, CEV, TEV GNB Living, Phillips, New Jerusalem, and New Century Bibles."

Riplinger documents in thousands of places evidence of the New Age movement's expressed goal of infiltrating the church. Standard Bible words and doctrines are being perverted in the modern Bible versions to deceive Christians into accepting a standard vocabulary devised to unite all world religions into one.

New Agers have publicly declared their plan: "We are one world. We now need a world religion. We are entering a New Age . . . When an appropriate common vocabulary is developed, each group can help toward a World Religion."—Toward a New World Religion. "I predict that in our lifetime we will see the rise of essentially a New World Religion."—Jean Houston. "The reorganization of the world's religion . . . [is] for the new world religion."—Alice Bailey. Quotes from Riplinger, pages 10-11.

Riplinger uses, The Encyclopedia of Occultism and Parapsychology to prove the New Age "semantic revolution" is now underway which will bring about an "East-West Synthesis." Riplinger quotes New Ager Striber: "So we can change the names in in so doing, we open the New Age door to millions who normally would not be receptive."—Whitley Striber, Infiltrating the New Age Into Society.

Riplinger quotes cult watchers who expose the dangerous deception facing Christians: "This new theology can be confusing with its apparent new definitions for words that have long established meaning."—Dave Hunt, Beyond Seduction. "Christians can be disarmed since these terms are part of their own vocabulary."—Elliot Miller, A Crash Course on the New Age. Satan is a deceiver. "We are not ignorant of his devices." (II Cor. 2:11). Bible believing Christians, you are being publicly forewarned. Satan and the New Agers are striving to destroy your faith through the use of New Age Bibles.

Our Divine "Destiny"

Even as youngsters we attempt to view the unknown . . . our chosen profession . . . marriage and family . . . where we will live. There are many forks in the road. Even basic decisions can become difficult. Yet, when we shape our lives with God at the center, "impossible" dreams become possible.

God has designed a divine destiny for each of us. The Bible has told us what it is . . . and what it is not. "For God has not destined us for wrath . . ." (1 Thessalonians 5:9). "He destined us in love to be His sons [and daughters]" (Ephesians 1:5).

However, God has given us free will . . . the freedom of choice. When aligned with His will, it is positive, but unaware of His plan, our lives can become a muddle of mediocrity.

May we design our lives around God's divine destiny. Worship each Sabbath. You will reap the wisdom of His Word, the serenity borne of faith, and the strength for untold tomorrows.

Sullivan Scramble to help young golfer struck by lightning

John Sullivan has a legion of friends he's never met, but they'll be out in force to help raise money for the Fifth Annual Sullivan Scramble in Saginaw. Scores of golfers will be playing on the Swan Valley and Crooked Creek golf courses that day to raise money for the Marlette youth who was paralyzed after being struck by lightning eight years ago.

His parents, Dick and Marcia

(formerly Marcia Sorenson of Grayling) and their three children continue to pray and believe that John will recover, but they know the treatment will be long and arduous. "I can't say enough about how moved our whole family is at the generosity and support so many people have shown by both signing up for the Sullivan Scramble and making in-kind donations," Dick Sullivan says. "It's heartwarming to know that so many people care."

This year's Sullivan Scramble is shaping up as a major hit with area golfers and celebrities. George Blaha, the well-known "voice" of the Detroit Pistons, is honorary chairman of the event and master of ceremonies at the early evening steak-out dinner. Playing with Blaha will be Greg Kelsner, his cohort at the Pistons microphone and former Michigan State basketball star.

"This golf outing is the type of event that touches your heart," says Blaha. "Every dollar we raise will mean a lot to the Sullivan family. They're trying to stick together and take care of each other. So if they're not giving up, I'm not going to, either."

The $60 per person entry fee for the Sullivan Scramble includes 18 holes of golf, cart, and an early-evening steak-out dinner. If you would like to attend the dinner only, the cost will be $20. There will be door prizes, a 50/50 raffle (with a minimum jackpot of $500), and we are also selling $1 raffle tickets for a Toronto trip for two, compliments of Morley Travel. There also will be a hole-in-one contest with a vacation package donated from Opperman Travel, as well as a closest-to-the-pin contest.

The silent auction will be held at Crooked Creek from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and will include items donated from the Detroit Pistons, Red Wings, Lions and Tigers, as well as memorabilia from PGA stars such as Fuzzy Zoeller and Ted Schulz. Even former President Richard Nixon has donated an item sure to get your attention. Last but not least, certain to bring a top dollar is a basketball signed by the legendary Earvin "Magic" Johnson. You do not have to be a golfer to come out and bid on an item. Everyone is welcome.

Net proceeds from the event will go to the Sullivan Trust, and all fees, contributions and other donations are tax-deductible.

For entry information and other details call the Sullivan Scramble Hotline at (313) 335-1165. For those not wishing to golf, contributions may be sent to The Sullivan Scramble, c/o Bill Davison, 502 S. Wheeler, Saginaw, MI 48602. Check should be made payable to "Sullivan Trust—St. Elizabeth."

Bills don't go away in recovery battle

The bills keep rolling in, and everyday living costs never go away. John Sullivan's special liquid food costs around $2,000 a month, and a very large health insurance premium comes due every three months.

And the best thing that could happen now, says John's father, Dick Sullivan, would be to hire a physical therapist who could visit John daily for several months as part of a consistent and intensive therapy program to help restore mobility to his stiffened limbs.

But money is short, and the Sullivans must rely on the kindness of others to sustain John and his family as the all-important work of rehabilitation moves forward.

John's tragic story is fairly familiar by now to residents of Grayling and Michigan's thumb-area farm country and factory towns.

In the summer of 1985, John was a lanky, blond-haired, 17, model student and athlete, a natural leader, and on the threshold of an exciting adulthood. But while playing in a golf tournament in East Lansing for Michigan's top prep golfers, he was struck by a bolt of lightning.

John escaped death that day, but his brain and youthful body were so traumatized that he could not move or speak. Eight years later, he is still without movement or the power of speech. He hears and understands, but the signals to his brain are disorganized and cannot yet be translated to the type of movement and activity normal people take utterly for granted.

Experts have told Dick and Marcia Sullivan that John could recover much of his previous mobility with continued therapy. But they know it'll be a long haul, and they've thrown away the clock and calendar.

Today, John's world is centered on two rooms in the Sullivan family home, located not far from Marlette, a farming community of 2,500, southeast of Saginaw. The farm has been in the Sullivan family for nearly 120 years, and Dick Sullivan, 49, used to be a prosperous dairy farmer.

But that time is past. Part of the rich land was sold to meet expenses, and Dick no longer farms; his full-time job is taking care of John. It's the full-time job, too, of Dick's wife, Marcia, 46. And at the same time, the needs of their other children, Kirsten, 22, Matthew, 17, and Ryan 12—must be met as best they can.

John's living space in the Sullivan home is dominated by his hospital bed, computer, and TV set. He's able to run simple programs on the computer with one foot, and the TV provides stimulation and entertainment into the early morning hours before he goes to sleep, usually about 1:30 a.m. each day. His father sleeps next to him every night in a recliner chair.

The other room, part of an addition to the house made possible by proceeds from an earlier Sullivan Scramble golf outing, is a special oversized bathroom where his father bathes John daily and provides whirlpool therapy.

Much more remains to be done, and could be done, to speed John Sullivan along the path to recovery. But the money just isn't there.

Hopefully, after this year's Sullivan Scramble, the money will be there.

I-75 Business Loop test plot completed

The first phase of the "I-75 Business Loop Beautification Project" was completed on May 28th with the planting of the "test plot" in the median at the intersection of the I-75 Business Loop and M-72 East. The project is being coordinated by the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee. Roy Spangler, MSU Cooperative Extension Director, has offered his expertise during the test plot planting and was responsible for the seed which was donated by the U.P. Birds Foot Treefoil Growers Association. Labor was provided for the project by New Life work crew under the supervision of crew leader Jim Adams and the Crawford County Road Commission. It is anticipated that if successful the test plot will give the chamber and other civic organizations the "green light" to plant the entire median during the 1994 spring planting season. It should be noted that the Grayling Rotary Club has made a major monetary contribution to the planting of this community project.

I-75 BEAUTIFICATION--This drawing by local artist Todd Pfaff shows the goal of the I-75 Beautification project to plant groundcover in the median and landscape with trees and welcome signs.

Local groups starting Grayling Coupon Gift

The Business Advisory Committee of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce consists of members from the Chamber Board of Directors, the Grayling Promotional Association, the Grayling Area Visitors Council and members of the Grayling Uptown District Association. It is the intent of this group to work in a unified manner to better promote the Grayling area to potential customers and guests.

At the last meeting of the group they decided to research the feasibility of establishing a "Grayling Coupon Gift" which would highlight up to 25 local businesses that offer discounts or specials to individuals presenting their coupon. It is anticipated that approximately 2,500 books would be handed out to major conference groups, hotel guests and visitors to the Grayling Visitors Center, in the chamber building.

The fee to participate in the coupon book would be limited to the first 25 businesses, at $25 for a business card size advertisement. Businesses that are interested in participating in the coupon book project are encouraged to call the chamber office, 348-2921.

Chamber manages community calendar

The chamber would again like to remind local civic and non-profit organizations that a unified community calendar has been established to communicate the events and functions planned for the 1993 calendar year. Any groups that are planning an event or function are encouraged to call the chamber. Events will be published on a first come basis. According to Chamber Executive Deborah Allen, "By the chamber coordinating and updating the community calendar it is hoped that we as a community can be more supportive of local events while avoiding potential conflicts in dates, facilities or attendance."

GPA to help beautify Chamber building

The chamber is pleased to announce that the Grayling Promotional Association (GPA) has requested the chamber's approval to initiate a "Chamber Building Beautification" project. The GPA requested the chamber board approve the painting, landscaping and general outside area located in the Grayling City Park in an effort to enhance its appeal to the visiting public. The GPA stated that the chamber building and visitors council is often the first place that new people or visitors to the area come; it should be attractive and a place of community pride. Although no start date has been set, the GPA members would like to have the project completed by July 1, 1993.

Chamber hosts 'Meet the Candidates Night'

The Education Committee of the Grayling Regional Chamber has recommended that the chamber sponsor a "Meet the Candidates Night" for the nominees of the Crawford AuSable School Board. The forum will allow each of the five candidates currently running for the elected position of School Board Trustee to answer questions related to school finances, facilities and educational views. Each of the candidates have agreed to participate in the event. The chamber views the sponsorship of this type of a program as yet another opportunity to establish quality partnerships between business and educational leaders. The evening's program of questions and answers will be moderated by Judge Alton T. Davis.

"Meet the Candidates Night" will be held on Monday, June 7, in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium at 7 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. and will be free to the public. Those in attendance at the program on Monday night will be given the opportunity to submit written questions to the candidates, if time allows. Individuals wishing to submit questions for the candidates, in advance, are encouraged to do so in writing, on a 3X5 card, to the chamber office, no later than June 4, 1993. The chamber reserves the right to screen all questions submitted, and may or may not use

GAVC features:

Summer tourist spending expected to increase

According to a recent May 27th report from the Michigan Travel Bureau Michigan Travel News, travelers are expected to spend more than $4.1 billion in Michigan this summer. Michigan Travel Bureau Director, Thomas Altemus stated "An improving economy and pent-up demand will generate an increase of at least two percent over last year's level of travel activity and spending, producing a $6.9 billion travel year -- with $4.1 billion of that activity coming in the summer season."

Other experts on the economics of travel and tourism have been even more optimistic in their 1993 predictions, he stated. Michigan State University's Travel, Tourism and Recreation Resources Center is predicting a six-percent growth in travel spending. "All economic indicators lead us to believe that we are heading onto a good summer. Consumer confidence is at a three-year high; retail sales continue to improve; interest rates are low. Many Michigan resorts, still reeling from 1992's chilly summer that never was, are reporting strong advance bookings."

Altemus also announced that the U.S. Travel Date Center in Washington, D.C., has completed a study of the economic impact of travel on each of Michigan's 83 counties.

The study, commissioned by the travel bureau, covers 1990 activity and shows that travelers spent $6.76 billion in Michigan in 1990, making Michigan the 12th largest state in the country based on travel spending. In Crawford County, tourists spent over $32.7 million and were responsible for approximately 680 local travel related jobs.

GAVC aids auto show

The Grayling Area Visitors Council will be reprinting their Grayling Accommodations brochure this month. The current brochure lists the sixteen members of the visitors council who participate in the 2% room assessment collection.

The upcoming brochure will include three new members to the Association: Western Trail (previously the Roost Motel), Super 8 Motel, and Borchers Bed and Breakfast. The printing of the brochure is paid in full by the visitors council and is distributed to potential guests of the area through brochure distribution throughout the state and via mail based on inquiries received at the visitors council.

Accommodations brochure updated

The Grayling Area Visitors Council recently allocated $500 to the Crawford County Cruisers for the 3rd Annual Frederic Auto Show. The event is scheduled for June 12th and 13th at Happy-Days Campground, two miles south of Frederic on US-27. The visitors council has allocated the money to assist with the expenses associated with the event in exchange for a motel listing on the back of the auto show flyer. For more information about the car show call 348-7264.

The fee to participate in the coupon book would be limited to the first 25 businesses, at $25 for a business card size advertisement. Businesses that are interested in participating in the coupon book project are encouraged to call the chamber office, 348-2921.

Chamber manages community calendar

The chamber would again like to remind local civic and non-profit organizations that a unified community calendar has been established to communicate the events and functions planned for the 1993 calendar year. Any groups that are planning an event or function are encouraged to call the chamber. Events will be published on a first come basis. According to Chamber Executive Deborah Allen, "By the chamber coordinating and updating the community calendar it is hoped that we as a community can be more supportive of local events while avoiding potential conflicts in dates, facilities or attendance."

GPA to help beautify Chamber building

The chamber is pleased to announce that the Grayling Promotional Association (GPA) has requested the chamber's approval to initiate a "Chamber Building Beautification" project. The GPA requested the chamber board approve the painting, planting and general outside landscaping of the chamber area located in the Grayling City Park in an effort to enhance its appeal to the visiting public. The GPA stated that the chamber building and visitors council is often the first place that new people or visitors to the area come; it should be attractive and a place of community pride. Although no start date has been set, the GPA members would like to have the project completed by July 1, 1993.

Chamber hosts 'Meet the Candidates Night'

The Education Committee of the Grayling Regional Chamber has recommended that the chamber sponsor a "Meet the Candidates Night" for the nominees of the Crawford AuSable School Board. The forum will allow each of the five candidates currently running for the elected position of School Board Trustee to answer questions related to school finances, facilities and educational views. Each of the candidates have agreed to participate in the event. The chamber views the sponsorship of this type of a program as yet another opportunity to establish quality partnerships between business and educational leaders. The evening's program of questions and answers will be moderated by Judge Alton T. Davis.

"Meet the Candidates Night" will be held on Monday, June 7, in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium at 7 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. and will be free to the public. Those in attendance at the program on Monday night will be given the opportunity to submit written questions to the candidates, if time allows. Individuals wishing to submit questions for the candidates, in advance, are encouraged to do so in writing, on a 3X5 card, to the chamber office, no later than June 4, 1993. The chamber reserves the right to screen all questions submitted, and may or may not use

Summer tourist spending expected to increase

According to a recent May 27th report from the Michigan Travel Bureau Michigan Travel News, travelers are expected to spend more than $4.1 billion in Michigan this summer. Michigan Travel Bureau Director, Thomas Altemus stated "An improving economy and pent-up demand will generate an increase of at least two percent over last year's level of travel activity and spending, producing a $6.9 billion travel year -- with $4.1 billion of that activity coming in the summer season."

Other experts on the economics of travel and tourism have been even more optimistic in their 1993 predictions, he stated. Michigan State University's Travel, Tourism and Recreation Resources Center is predicting a six-percent growth in travel spending. "All economic indicators lead us to believe that we are heading onto a good summer. Consumer confidence is at a three-year high; retail sales continue to improve; interest rates are low. Many Michigan resorts, still reeling from 1992's chilly summer that never was, are reporting strong advance bookings."

Altemus also announced that the U.S. Travel Date Center in Washington, D.C., has completed a study of the economic impact of travel on each of Michigan's 83 counties.

The study, commissioned by the travel bureau, covers 1990 activity and shows that travelers spent $6.76 billion in Michigan in 1990, making Michigan the 12th largest state in the country based on travel spending. In Crawford County, tourists spent over $32.7 million and were responsible for approximately 680 local travel related jobs.

GAVC aids auto show

The Grayling Area Visitors Council will be reprinting their Grayling Accommodations brochure this month. The current brochure lists the sixteen members of the visitors council who participate in the 2% room assessment collection.

The upcoming brochure will include three new members to the Association: Western Trail (previously the Roost Motel), Super 8 Motel, and Borchers Bed and Breakfast. The printing of the brochure is paid in full by the visitors council and is distributed to potential guests of the area through brochure distribution throughout the state and via mail based on inquiries received at the visitors council.

Accommodations brochure updated

The Grayling Area Visitors Council recently allocated $500 to the Crawford County Cruisers for the 3rd Annual Frederic Auto Show. The event is scheduled for June 12th and 13th at Happy-Days Campground, two miles south of Frederic on US-27. The visitors council has allocated the money to assist with the expenses associated with the event in exchange for a motel listing on the back of the auto show flyer. For more information about the car show call 348-7264.

Students dance at 'Midnight Masquerade'

By Stacy Straw

About 125 people attended the Grayling High School Prom, sponsored by the junior class on Saturday, May 15, at the Holiday Inn of Grayling.

The theme, "Midnight Masquerade," was carried out through red, black and silver decorations provided by Balloon Peddlers of Traverse City.

"The decorations looked very elegant," said foreign exchange student Natalia Villalobos, a senior. "I had a lot of fun at the dance. We do not have Prom in Colombia, so I am glad that I had a chance to go to this one."

The Prom committee was made up of juniors Jennie Evans, Jason Puls, Jamie McKinney, Darcie McCurdy, Mande Mleck, Amanda Bankert, Jaime Andrus and Julie Hinderleider and class advisers Diane Isenhauer and David Glicker, who started planning this special night back in January.

"I feel proud to be, in part, responsible for an event such as the Prom," said Isenhauer. "The committee was hard-working and dedicated to putting on the best Prom possible. It was also an opportunity for me to see the students of GHS in a setting other than school."

At midnight, seniors Mark Kraus and Heidi Craigie were crowned King and Queen. Kraus was presented with a scepter and Craigie received a tiara.

Door prizes and gift certificates were donated by local businesses, including Mac's Drugs, A Cut Above, Big Boy, Chief Shoppenagons, Golden Touch, Buccilli's Pizza, Tan Lines, Grayling Entertainment, Subway, Kit & Kaboodle, Pizza Hut, Hardee's, Glen's Market, McDonald's and Flowers by Josie.

Guests wrote their names on the back of their tickets to be eligible for the drawings for prizes, which were held periodically throughout the evening.

Elmar Paeva, from Rusch Entertainment, was the DJ for the memorable evening. He played a wide variety of dance music, including the senior class song, Days Gone By, by Slaughter.

The juniors had punch, vegetables and dip, cheese and crackers and chips and dip for anyone who had room left over after their dinners.

Chaperones included Wanda LaForest, Joe LaForest, Tom Mills, Angela Anderson, Principal Carl Naghtin, Marilyn Naghtin, Assistant Principal Bentley Laser, Wendy Laser, Diane Isenhauer, Tim Isenhauer, Butch Hayes and David Glicker.

Couples were presented with complementary picture frames printed with the theme and year.

Prestige Portraits was on hand to take photos of couples and groups of friends.

"This year's Prom was memorable to me because I went with a very special person, Roy, to my last Prom ever," said Gina Lupp. "It was the greatest time I ever had, and I will remember it always."
